This score is a composite of the four domain scores discussed below.

The bar chart below shows New Zealand’s total risk scores in 4 domains: (1) Business Interactions with Government, (2) Anti-Bribery Laws and Enforcement, (3) Government and Civil Service Transparency and (4) Capacity for Civil Society Oversight. The four domain scores are weighted and combined and a risk penalty is added for individual domain scores that exceed the overall country risk score. Each country is given a score from 1 to 100 for each domain, and for the total bribery risk. A higher score indicates a higher risk of business bribery.

1. Business Interactions with Government: New Zealand scores 18 in this domain, based on a very low degree of government interaction, very low expectation of bribes, and a moderate regulatory burden.
2. Anti-Bribery Laws and Enforcement: New Zealand scores 6 in this domain, based on a very high quality of anti-bribery laws and a very high quality of anti-bribery enforcement.
3. Government and Civil Services Transparency: New Zealand scores 3 in this domain, based on very good governmental transparency and very good civil-service transparency/health.
4. Capacity for Civil Society Oversight: New Zealand scores 5 in this domain, based on a very high degree of media freedom/quality and a very high degree of social development.
